

Augie Summer 2019

Augie is posing with President McKinley in the park. We think Augie has the better smile.

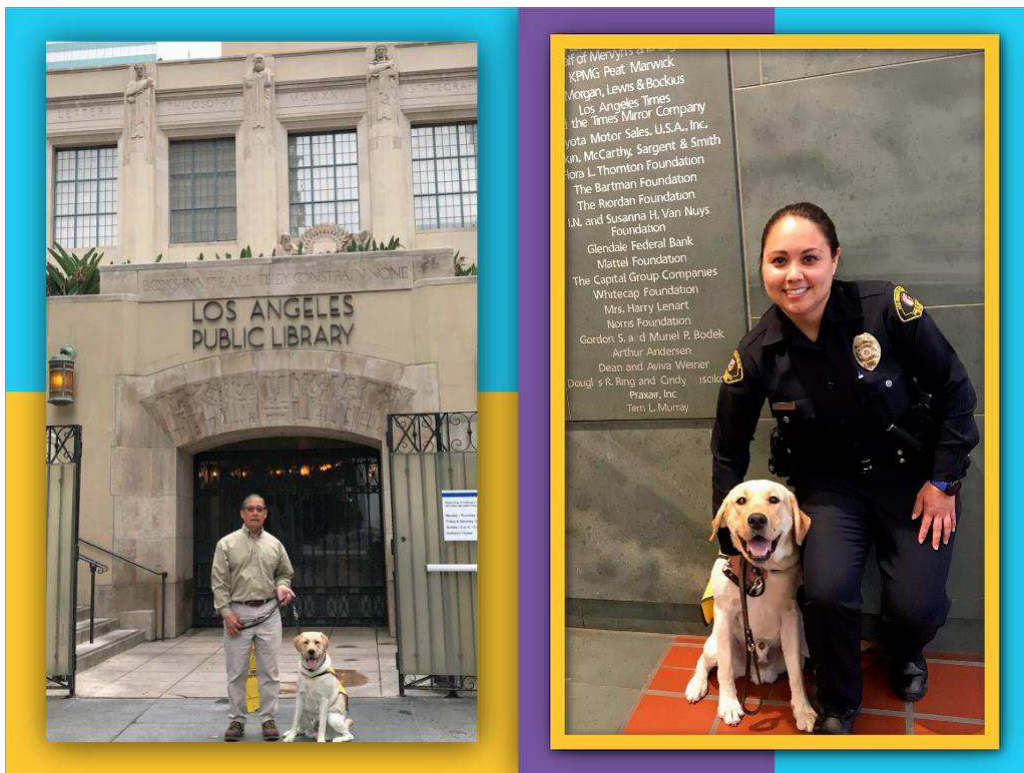

Augie would like to thank his sponsor, Sepulveda Building Materials for their generous support of Guide Dogs of America. He has been busy learning each day on fun adventures.

4th of July Car Show & church picnic

This year the annual Independence Day picnic had: 450 beautiful cars, custom bikes, water slides, In-N-Out Burger & unscheduled earthquakes.

Augie went on a fun trip to the LA Library. He went with great friends and veteran puppy raisers to discover many great things in the big city. It is good for Augie to work in new places and with other handlers. This will help him later to happily bond with the GDA formal trainers, and later with the partner he will guide.

Los Angeles

Every week Augie is exposed to different types of music. Augie got a private concert with bag pipes at the Redlands Bowl. The sounds echoed through the arcade and Augie is fascinated.

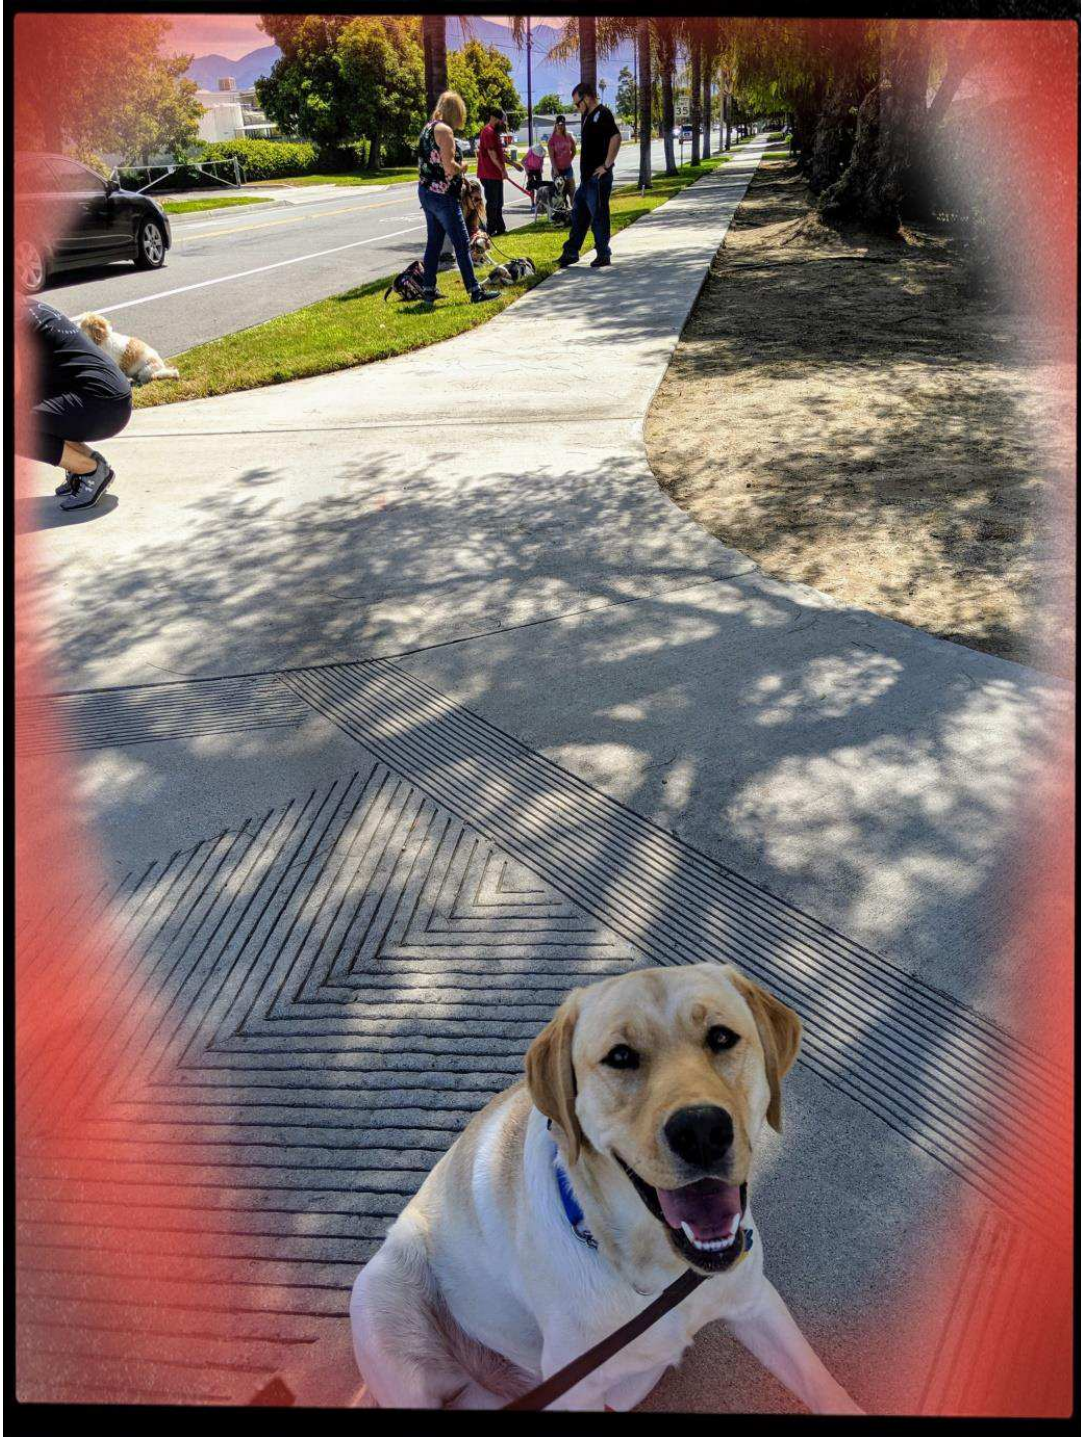

Guide Dogs of America Claremont Meeting

Augie is working hard with his friends outside of the Lincoln Memorial Shrine at a community obedience class. It is good for Augie to review his basic obedience with lots of distractions including 2 singing beagles.

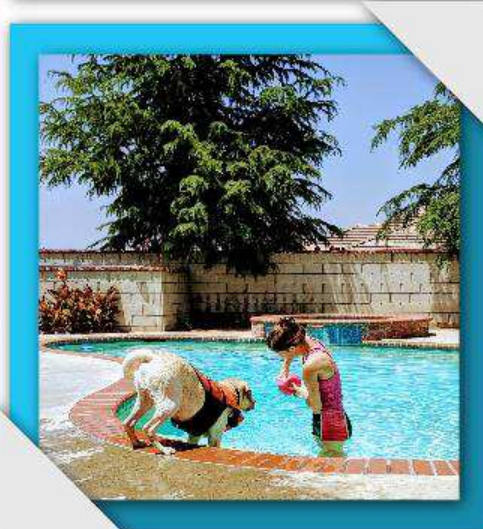

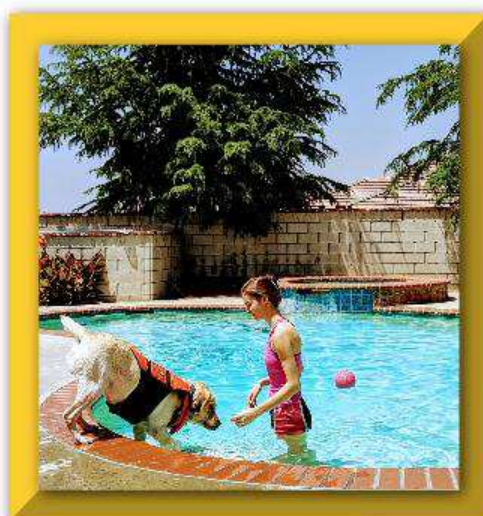

Augie is waiting in obedience class for it to be safe to cross the street.
It is more fun walking and waiting with friends.

Augie went to LA for a special Hawaiian BBQ lunch. Then he went exploring and ended his adventure with some shaved ice. Augie doesn't eat the human food but he sure enjoys going and sharing in the fun.

Augie spent a year with the pool in his yard, but today he got to go for his first swim. There are some advantages to having a birthday! Guide Dogs of America has puppies in training learn to use pools only with permission & Augie has been very patient.

Augie can relax just about any place. That makes a good working dog. He loves a nice cold floor.

Augie continues to spend time in the Guide Dogs of America kennels each month. He will be ready for formal training soon and will be comfortable living there from this very gradual transition. Augie's puppy raiser family and Guide Dogs of America thanks Sepulveda Building Materials for their generous sponsorship of guide dog Augie giving people who are blind and visually impaired opportunity to live with increased independence.
