

What's Up With Wagner

GDA/TLC Puppy Sponsor Report

Prepared for: Sepulveda Building Materials Golf Tournament

April 2021

About Wagner

Hi,

I'm Wagner. I'm a black Labrador Retriever and I'm all boy! I was born on December 25 and I'm looking forward to experiencing the big celebration for me next year... I hear there will be a decorated tree with lights and lots of presents. 😊

I live in the South Bay with my GDA/TLC puppy raisers Kathi and Dennis. (I think I'll keep them, at least until GDA says it's time for me to come back home for formal guide dog training.)

My puppy raisers love me A LOT, but they also are very serious about my training so that one day I may become a guide dog. They've been keeping me busy mostly inside and in their yard these past couple months because I am not fully vaccinated, but I will be soon and I'll be ready to take on the outside world (and pay a visit to Sepulveda Building Materials).

Thank you for sponsoring me. I love the food. Can we talk about the vaccinations? Nah, they weren't so bad... I'm "ruff" and tough – and I got a little paw-ticure after the last one and lots of treats for being such a good boy!!!

I hope I make you proud. I'm going to do my very best.

Wiggles and Wags,

Wagner

FEBRUARY

Go Home Day

I went home with my Puppy Raisers on Friday, February 19th. Let the adventures begin!!!

My new home and my puppy raisers

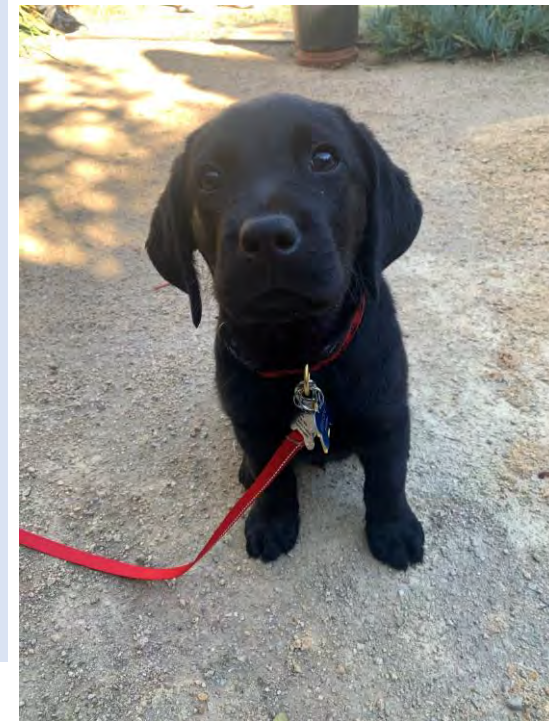

My Puppy Raisers –
Kathi and Dennis

Trying out new surfaces

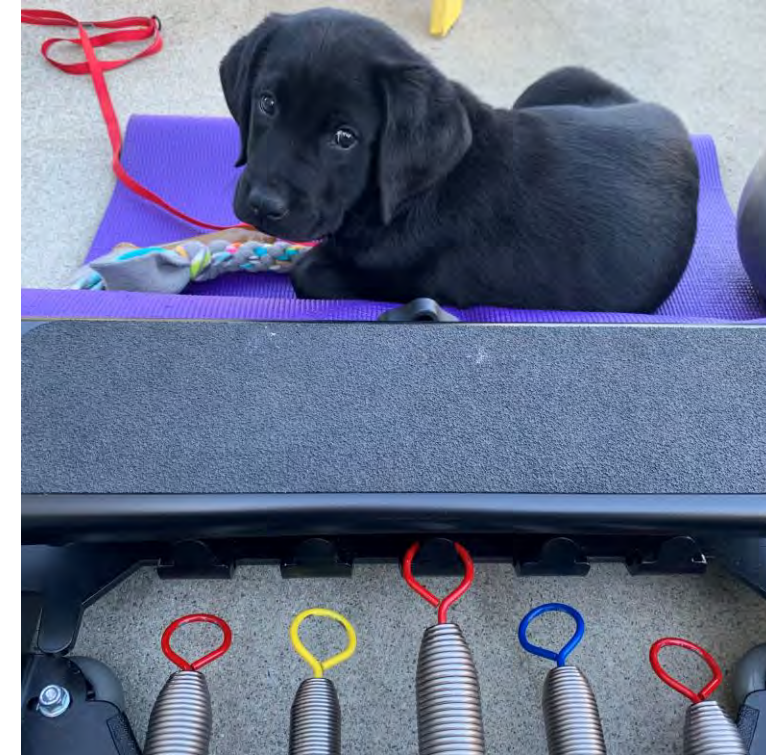

I started getting used to new surfaces right away because I heard that I'll be visiting Sepulveda Building Materials as soon as I am fully vaccinated, and I wanted to be ready to check out EVERYTHING!

What's a Pilates Puppy?

My Puppy Raiser lets me watch her doing Pilates. She calls me her "Pilates Puppy." There are so many fun things going on, but I have been learning how to settle during class since my first week here. It's important that I know how to settle in all kinds of situations with all kinds of distractions and activity going on around me.

I like car rides...

I ride up front on the floor of the passenger seat. It's safe for me there. They make it very comfortable for me too! Check out the different blankets. (They settled on the purple tie-dye.)

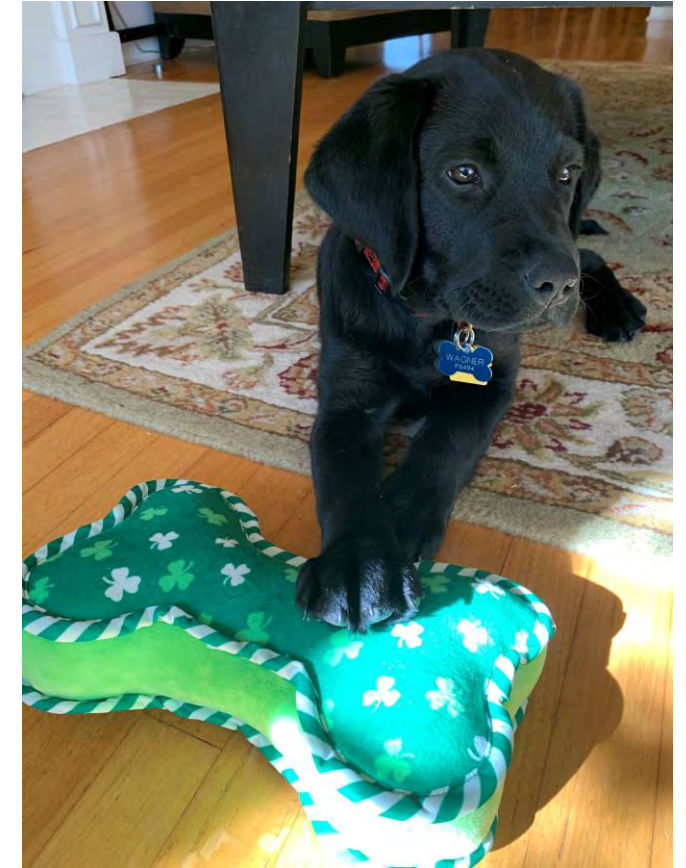

March

Getting Dressed for Dinner... and breakfast and lunch

So, I'm learning something new... "Get dressed!" It means I get to put on my Puppy In Training jacket. For now, it just means time for a meal, but pretty soon it will mean that I get to go on fun adventures that will help in my training.

St. Paddy's Day

Do you think green is my color? My scarf says “Lucky Lad” – I sure am! I have THE BEST sponsor!

Vaccination and paw-ticure day

Back for two more vaccines and a paw-ticure – my nails were as sharp as my puppy teeth! I didn't mind either one because I'm a brave boy and my Puppy Raisers Kathi and Dennis know just how to hold me.

Out and About

Making friends with the neighbors. The easel reads: I love doggy”.

Visiting a design showroom. We were the only ones there, so I got to walk and practice “Let’s Go!” all over the place and work on my other training too. I was really good at “Sit.”

Visiting a friend’s backyard and getting Zen.

Extra

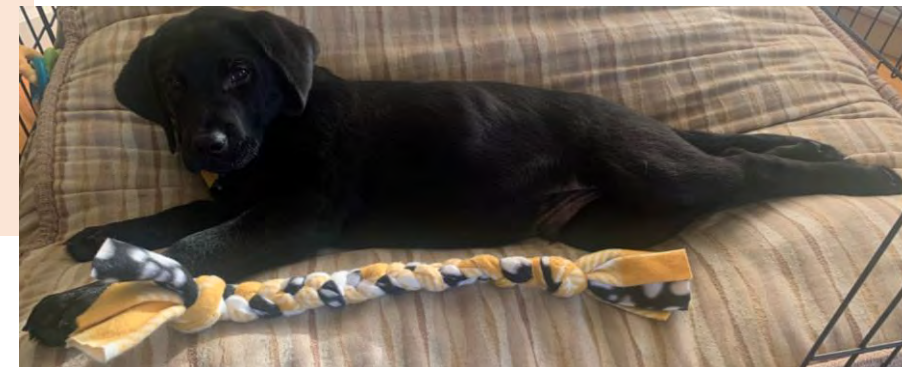

Look at Me Grow!

This braided rope toy is how my Puppy Raiser is going to measure my growth on the 25th of every month. (Did you notice she used construction tape colors?)

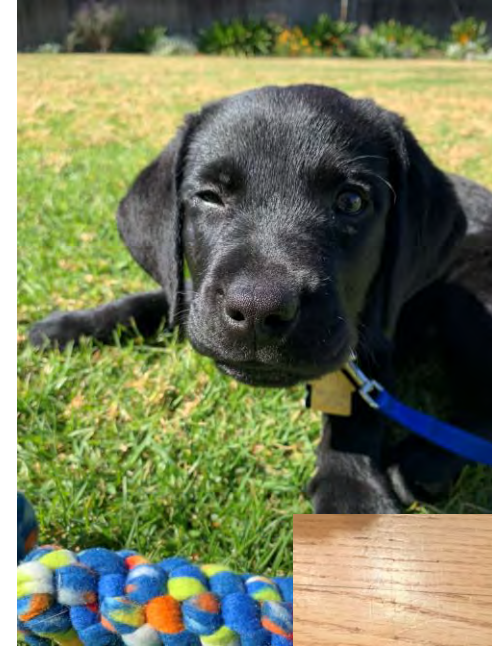

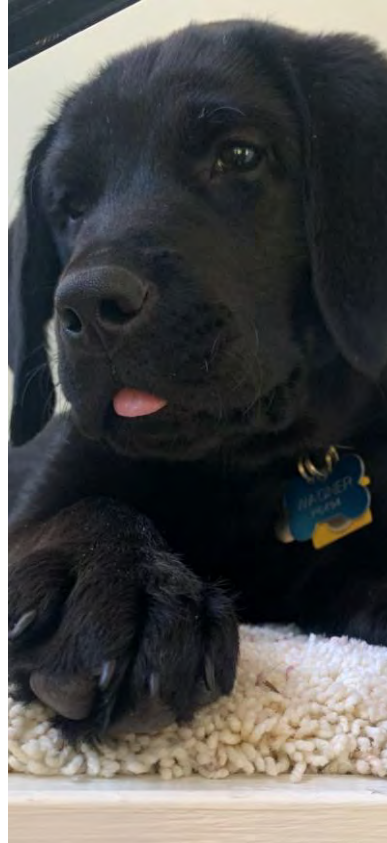

February 25

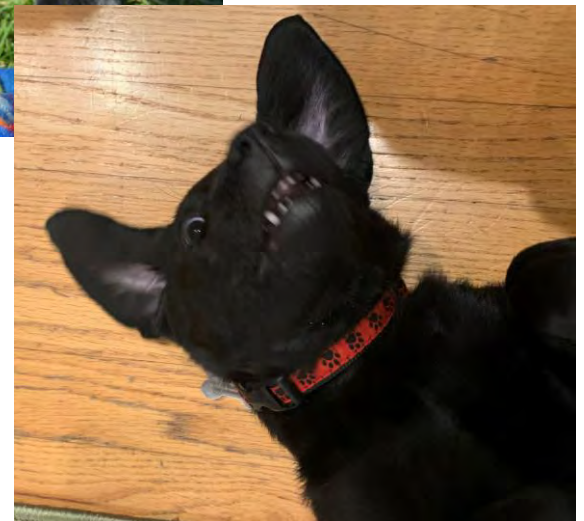

March 25

Just for Fun – Tongue Out Tuesdays and Funny Faces

... but I'm good at making funny faces too... just because!!!

Every Tuesday you can find me on Instagram with my tongue out...
#TongueOutTuesday 😊

I'm on Social Media

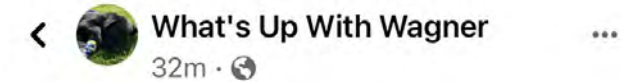

Follow me on:

Facebook What's Up With Wagner

Instagram @WhatsUpWithWagner

It's "Wagner Wednesday" - or maybe "Wagner Wet-sday." More of that splashy water 💦 stuff came down today 🌧️. And did it come down!!! Wagner got soaked while we took a little walk in our yard. Then the thunder 🌩️... which we made a happy game of and took him to the porch for a brisk towel dry. All good!!! Such a brave wet boy! #wagnerwednesdaygda

THANK YOU!

THE END!

